TODAY as we begin our Centennial Series of Services marking the founding of this congregation by the Rev. George McDougall in 1871 we are greatly indebted to our Lt. Gov. J.W. Grant MacEwan who is our Special Speaker; to Chief Justice S. Bruce Smith and to Superintendent W.W. Peterson of the R.C.M.P., who share in the Service, and to those leaders of the Province and City who by their presence add to the occasion and indicate their interest in the place McDougall has played in our past, and the part the Church, both Roman Catholic and Protestant, has had in the development of our country. It adds much to this occasion to have descendents of George McDougall, Rev. H.B. Steinhauer, and Peter Erasmus worship with us today.

IN 1871 GEORGE McDOUGALL moved from his mission at Victoria, (now Pagan) to establish his headquarters at Fort Edmonton. In founding a congregation at Edmonton he built upon the work of earlier missionaries, first of whom was Rev. Robert Terril Rundle (1840), Rev. H.B. Steinhauer who spent his entire adult life in the Northwest, Mr. B. Sinclair, a native layman, Rev. Thomas Woolsey and Rev. Peter Campbell.

The Period of service of the McDougalls, father and son, was practically co-terminous with the life and work of Father Albert Lacombe OMI who served the natives and his Church so faithfully over so many years and was largely responsible for St. Albert becoming Alberta's first town.

While we in our Centennial Celebrations give thanks for our past and to all who have served, we remember that having a past is no guarantee of having a future, so our slogan, "McDougall, a Pioneer Church Continuing to Pioneer" must be made a reality as we seek to meet the present effectively.
